

Charles L. Evans

President and CEO, Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago

Charles L. Evans has served as president and chief executive officer of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago since September 2007. In that capacity, he serves on the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC), the Federal Reserve System's monetary policymaking body. Before becoming president in September of 2007, Evans served as director of research and senior vice president. In addition to his work, he is active in the civic community and serves on multiple boards. Evans received a bachelor's degree in economics from the University of Virginia and a doctorate in economics from Carnegie-Mellon University in Pittsburgh.

Chris Raymond

Chief Sustainability Officer, The Boeing Company

Chris Raymond is the chief sustainability officer for The Boeing Company, and a member of the company's Executive Council reporting to the Chief Executive Officer. As Boeing's first chief sustainability officer, Raymond is responsible for further advancing Boeing's approach on environmental, social and governance (ESG) priorities, stakeholder-oriented engagement, reporting, and company performance. Raymond's Executive Council responsibilities include driving shared awareness of ESG trends, opportunities, and targets to guide company decision-making and global impact.

Balvy Bhogal-Mitro

Vice President of Strategic and Corporate Planning, CITGO

Balvy Bhogal-Mitro was named Vice President of Strategic and Corporate Planning in June 2021. She has 33 years of energy industry experience and has been with CITGO since 2005. She most recently served as Assistant Vice President Strategic and Corporate Planning, where she was also instrumental in helping the Company secure new debt and refinance existing debt, as well as regularly providing economic and market analyses for investors and other key stakeholders. Prior to CITGO, she held positions in process engineering, operations, economics and planning, and capital investments at Lyondell-CITGO Refining, L.P., Koch Refining and Shell Canada Products, Ltd. Balvy holds an MBA from the University of Houston and a Bachelor of Applied Science in Chemical Engineering from the University of Waterloo, Ontario, Canada.

Paul Segal

CEO, LS Power

Paul Segal has served as Chief Executive Officer at LS Power since 2011. Mr. Segal is also a member of LS Power's Management Committee, overseeing one of the largest independent power and transmission developers in the United States. Since its inception in 1990, LS Power has consistently been at the leading edge of the industry's evolution, often introducing or commercializing new technologies and developing new markets. Prior to his appointment as CEO, Mr. Segal oversaw LS Power's asset management and renewables development activities. In 2002, Mr. Segal founded Luminus

Management, a hedge fund which invested across the capital structure of publicly traded power, energy, utility and related companies. He was President and Portfolio Manager until 2011 and sold the business in 2017. Mr. Segal began his career at Smith Barney as a generalist in the Mergers and Acquisitions Investment Banking group. Mr. Segal graduated with highest honors from the Rutgers College of Engineering with a B.S. in Bio-Chemical Engineering.